AUB AT A GLANCE

WHO WE ARE

The American University of Beirut (AUB) is a private, independent, co-educational, and non-sectarian institution of higher learning in Beirut, Lebanon. The university is governed by an autonomous board of trustees and accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. Its degrees are registered with the New York State Education Department and the Lebanese Ministry of Education and Higher Education.

AUB encourages a diverse student body and workforce and is committed to the principle of equal opportunity in education and employment. Consistent with this commitment and with Lebanese, US, and other applicable laws, it is the policy of AUB not to tolerate any kind of discrimination, discriminatory harassment, or sexual harassment misconduct and to provide those who feel they are victims of any kind of discriminatory harassment (including sexual harassment) with mechanisms for seeking redress. Consistent with Title IX of the US Education Amendments of 1972, which prohibits sex discrimination in education and interprets sex discrimination as including sexual harassment and sexual violence, AUB maintains an Equity/Title IX coordinator in the Office of the President. The office is also supported by a network of faculty and staff members including an Advisory Council, Title IX deputies, and qualified panel members for formal investigations. Members of the network are certified by the Association of Title IX Administrators (ATIXA).

AUB is a teaching-centered research university that bases its educational philosophy, standards, and practices on the American liberal arts model of higher education. The university encourages freedom of thought and expression and seeks to graduate students committed to creative and critical thinking, lifelong learning, personal integrity, civic responsibility, and leadership.

THE AMERICAN UNIVERSITY OF BEIRUT – MEDITERRANEO

In fall 2023, AUB welcomed the first cohort of 53 students to the American University of Beirut – Mediterraneo in Pafos, Cyprus, AUB's first twin campus outside Lebanon. Dr. Wassim El Hajj, professor of computer science at AUB, was appointed rector of AUB Mediterraneo on January 1, 2023. He is the chief academic officer at AUB Mediterraneo and oversees the strategic academic development of the university, the operation of schools and academic support units, the growth and expansion of academic offerings, the advancement of research programs, and the effectiveness of quality assurance policies and procedures. AUB Mediterraneo's three faculties are led by Dr. Alain Daou (Faculty of Business), Dr. Salah Sadek (Faculty of Engineering), and Dr. Malek Tabbal (Faculty of Arts and Sciences). Dr. Amy Zenger is the director of the Institute for Liberal Arts.

AUB Mediterraneo is offering five undergraduate programs and two master's programs in the 2023-24 academic year as follows: philosophy, politics, and economics (BA); psychology (BS); computer science (BS); industrial engineering (BS); business administration–management (BBA); business analytics (MS); and engineering management (MS). All departments and programs at AUB Mediterraneo are accredited by the Cyprus Agency of Quality Assurance and Accreditation of Higher Education (CYQAA) and recognized in the United States.

AUB Mediterraneo plans to expand its academic programs and grow its student body to 2,000 within 10 years.

“By building a new state-of-the-art campus with three faculties initially allowing for more than 2,000 students within the next 10 to 12 years, we promote the interchange of students, faculty, and staff that deepens our ties throughout the eastern Mediterranean region.”

MISSION

The American University of Beirut (AUB) is an institution of higher learning founded to provide excellence in education, to participate in the advancement of knowledge through research, and to serve the peoples of the Middle East and beyond. Chartered in New York State in 1863, the university bases its educational philosophy, standards, and practices on the American liberal arts model of higher education. The university believes deeply in and encourages freedom of thought and expression and seeks to foster tolerance and respect for diversity and dialogue. Graduates will be individuals committed to creative and critical thinking, life-long learning, personal integrity, civic responsibility, and leadership.

LEADERSHIP

PRESIDENT

The 16th president of the American University of Beirut (AUB), Fadlo R. Khuri's leadership has been remarkable. He assumed office on September 1, 2015. He has led the university through the third worst economic collapse since the mid-19th century, the devastating August 4, 2020 Beirut explosion, and the pandemic, providing enlightened leadership under sustained pressure.

He negotiated a new faculty contract, restored tenure, tripled financial assistance awarded to AUB students, and diversified the student body by attracting outstanding students from across Africa and Asia. Khuri recruited and empowered inclusive and brave senior leadership teams, 50 percent of whom are women.

Other highlights of recent years include Khuri's leadership of the successful BOLDLY AUB fundraising campaign that has so far raised more than $762 million (as of September 30, 2023) for university priorities and attracted the single largest gift in AUB history; the implementation of a tobacco-free policy at the university and medical center (in 2018); the reintroduction of academic tenure (in 2018); the establishment of an independent nursing school (in 2018); the relaunch of the Worldwide Alumni Association of the American University of Beirut (WAAAUB), the university's global alumni association, in 2019; the adoption of VITAL 2030, a new campus master plan and strategic plan for the university (2019); the establishment of more than a dozen schools for Syrian refugees, securing electronic medical records for 15,000 refugees; and the establishment of the American University of Beirut – Mediterraneo in Pafos, Cyprus, the university's first twin campus outside Lebanon, which welcomed its first cohort of students in September 2023.

Khuri also enhanced and revised national cancer guidelines for Lebanon. He co-led a highly effective national COVID-19 vaccination campaign, vaccinating 99.7 percent of AUB faculty, students, staff, and alumni and 93 percent of adults over the age of 70 across Lebanon. Under his leadership, the AUB Medical Center adopted EPIC seamlessly and became the first member of the COSMOS research consortium outside the US.

During his tenure as president of the American University of Beirut, the university has risen dramatically in global rankings: from 801 (in 2015) to 472 (in 2023) in the US News list of Best Global Universities. AUB's academic and research reputation has also grown and is reflected in its dramatic rise in the QS World University Rankings, from 501 (in 2016) to 226 (in 2024).

Prior to joining AUB, Dr. Khuri was a faculty member at the University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston, Texas from 1995 until 2002. In 2002, he joined the Emory University School of Medicine in Atlanta, Georgia where he was appointed to the Frances Kelly Blomeyer Chair in 2002 and the Roberto C. Goizueta Chair in translational research in 2007. Khuri was instrumental in leading the development of several major cancer related programs in the United States and was the principal investigator on a number of National Cancer Institute and American Cancer Society grants. He has authored over 750 publications, including 385 peer-reviewed journal articles, 55 reviews, 45 editorials and perspectives in leading journals, 250 meeting abstracts, and over 15 letters, notes, chapters, and short surveys. He served for 10 years (2011-21) as editor-in-chief of Cancer, the oldest and one of the most prestigious journals in the field.

Khuri has also served as a permanent member of multiple peer review committees for the American Cancer Society, American Society of Clinical Oncology, and the National Cancer Institute (NCI), and was chair of the National Institutes of Health's Clinical Oncology Study Section. He has received numerous awards in recognition of his scholarly achievements including the 2006 Nagi Sahyoun Award of the Middle East Medical Assembly; the 2013 Richard and Hinda Rosenthal Memorial Award by the American Association for Cancer Research; TAKREEM's Scientific and Technological Achievement Award in 2015; and the 2018 Ben Qurrah Award, the World Health Organization's No Tobacco Award, and the International Association for the Study of Lung Cancer's Joseph W. Cullen Award, also in 2018. Khuri became a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in 2014, a full member of the Lebanese Academy of Sciences in 2015, and a fellow of the Royal College of Physicians in 2017. He is the current vice president of the Lebanese Academy of Sciences.

A BRIEF HISTORY

The American University of Beirut was established as the Syrian Protestant College in 1866. The college opened with its first class of 16 students on December 3, 1866. Throughout its history, the university has expanded and developed new faculties and programs. In 1867, the university started the School of Medicine. Four years later, in 1871, it added both a school of pharmacy and a preparatory school. The latter became independent in 1960 and is now known as International College.

The opening of the hospital (currently the American University of Beirut Medical Center) in 1905 was followed by the establishment of a school of nursing (named the Rafic Hariri School of Nursing in 2008). In the early 1950s several new programs were introduced. The Faculty of Engineering and Architecture (named the Maroun Semaan Faculty of Engineering and Architecture in 2017) was established in 1951; the Faculty of Agriculture (now the Faculty of Agricultural and Food Sciences) opened its doors in 1952; and the School of Public Health (now the Faculty of Health Sciences) was started in 1954. In 2000, the university, which had been offering business education since 1900, established an independent school of business (named the Suliman S. Olayan School of Business in 2003) as its sixth faculty. AUB celebrated its 150th anniversary in 2016. The Rafic Hariri School of Nursing became AUB's seventh faculty in 2018.

On September 6, 2023, AUB welcomed the first cohort of 53 students to the American University of Beirut – Mediterraneo (AUB Mediterraneo) in Pafos, Cyprus, AUB's first twin campus outside Lebanon.

BOLDLY FORWARD

AUB celebrated its 150th anniversary in 2016. At the culmination of the year-long celebration in January 2017, AUB President Fadlo R. Khuri announced BOLDLY AUB: The Campaign to Lead, Innovate, and Serve, a $650 million five-year fundraising campaign to ensure that AUB can continue to:

- LEAD by producing thought leaders and community leaders with the passion and drive to effect significant and meaningful change.
- INNOVATE by keeping AUB at the forefront of groundbreaking movements and ideas in the MENA region and beyond.
- SERVE the communities around us, near and far, through outreach, research, and leadership in healthcare.

The goals of the BOLDLY AUB campaign are to:

- Enrich the educational and research experience of students and faculty.

- Serve the healthcare needs of the region.
- Prioritize innovation and entrepreneurship.
- Engage with communities in the region to achieve real impact.
- Secure the university's long-term sustainability.

The BOLDLY AUB campaign also advances VITAL 2030, President Khuri's far-reaching and ambitious vision for the university, described below.

The campaign achieved its financial goal ahead of schedule: $654 million was raised as of June 2021. Because of the extraordinary challenges in Lebanon and at AUB at that time, the AUB Board of Trustees decided to extend the BOLDLY AUB campaign until 2024. The total amount raised for the BOLDLY campaign as of September 30, 2023 was $762 million.

The BOLDLY campaign has transformed the fabric of our university. It is during the BOLDLY campaign that the percentage of students receiving financial assistance has increased dramatically. 88.5 percent of AUB students are now receiving financial assistance (including financial aid from the university, donor-funded scholarships, scholarships funded by grants, etc.). More than 65 percent of students are receiving financial assistance that covers more than half of their tuition costs. More than 20 percent of AUB students are not paying any tuition at all.

Donations contributed to the BOLDLY campaign have also enhanced our facilities, expanded research funds, and supported community outreach initiatives. As a result of the BOLDLY campaign, our university is also stronger and more resilient than it was: almost $220 million has been added to our endowment helping to ensure the long-term sustainability of AUB.

VITAL 2030

Given the daunting challenges facing Lebanon and the MENA region and our increasingly connected world, AUB cannot rely purely on its legacy of excellence and impact, impressive though it is. Like any successful, sustainable institution, the university must keep moving forward to ensure it renews its purpose and relevance in a rapidly unfolding future. At the dawn of AUB's second 150 years, with new senior leadership and a new direction, the time was right to begin enacting substantive, systemic changes that would position the university for even greater leaps forward in the future. VITAL 2030 was proposed as AUB's strategic vision. The result of three years of intensive engagement with stakeholders across the institution, the new strategic vision seeks to ensure AUB's future success, relevance, and sustainability over the next decade and beyond. VITAL is a mnemonic for five themes, which allow the university to focus energy and resources, strengthen operations strategically, bring all stakeholders together towards common goals, establish agreement around intended outcomes, and course-correct when necessary. These themes are:

- V Valuing our community and sharing our values
- I Integrating a humanities, technology, and purpose-based education across all disciplines
- T Transforming the university experience
- A Advancing a world-class research agenda
- L Lifting the quality of health and medicine across our region – LIFE

VITAL 2030 and the campus master plan for 2030 were developed in tandem with multi-stakeholder engagement, with each framework able to inform the other, while also taking into account the objectives of the five-year $650 million BOLDLY AUB capital campaign launched in 2017, whose priorities are to enrich education and research, foster interdisciplinary innovation and entrepreneurship, enhance healthcare, solidify community relevance, and ensure sustainability. Starting late 2019, this new vision for AUB had to be repeatedly adapted in response to the disruptions and instabilities associated with the deterioration of the Lebanese economy, the October 17, 2019, uprising, and later with the COVID-19 lockdown, and an imminent global recession.

Following the June 2020 Board of Trustees meetings, five working groups, aligned with the VITAL strategic goals and objectives, were formed to increase the engagement of trustees in the strategic planning process, mobilize them to work on critical issues during the current crisis, and benefit from their diverse expertise and experience. Approved recommendations were later incorporated into the university's strategic plan and an action plan was developed for each recommendation.

In April 2021, and in line with AUB's strategic direction to prioritize university growth on campus and beyond, AUB engaged the Albright Stonebridge Group (ASG) to undertake a rigorous, independent review and strategic analysis of its geographic expansion plans. Pafos in Cyprus emerged among the leading opportunities and subsequently, ASG worked with AUB to develop an in-depth market overview. In September 2021, the AUB Board of Trustees approved the establishment of the American University of Beirut – Mediterraneo (AUB Mediterraneo) as a private not-for-profit twin campus of AUB with a regional scope, attracting students from all over the Mediterranean basin and beyond. Similar to AUB, AUB Mediterraneo bases its educational philosophy, standards, and practices on the American liberal arts model of higher education. The university in Pafos encourages freedom of thought and expression and seeks to graduate people committed to creative and critical thinking, life-long learning, personal integrity, civic responsibility, and leadership.

In response to an open call initiated by the Municipality of Pafos in October 2021 inviting higher education institutions to express interest in establishing a university in Pafos, Cyprus, AUB submitted a proposal for establishing AUB Mediterraneo. In November 2021, the Municipality of Pafos communicated back to AUB granting approval of its proposal. Following this, and after extensive negotiations, AUB and the Municipality of Pafos signed a landmark agreement in April 2022 to establish the AUB Mediterraneo campus in Pafos.

An executive director was appointed in August 2021 to oversee the implementation of the expansion project in Cyprus. In October 2021, two university-wide working groups were formed to drive and coordinate the academic and non-academic aspects of the twin campus. The working groups ensured ongoing coordination with the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE) to develop the plan for a branch campus and ensure extension of accreditation. Further coordination with the Cyprus Agency of Quality Assurance and Accreditation in Higher Education (CYQAA) was established to clarify requirements for registration and accreditation. Dar Al-Handasah developed a fully-fledged master plan.

The AUB Medical Center (AUBMC) is an academic medical center dedicated to the passionate pursuit of improving the health of the community in Lebanon and the region through the delivery of exceptional and comprehensive quality care to our patients, excellence in education and training, and leadership in innovative research. It is the private, not-for-profit teaching center of the Faculty of Medicine. The 390 operational-bed hospital offers comprehensive tertiary/quaternary medical care and referral services in a wide range of specialties and medical, nursing, and paramedical training programs at the undergraduate and post-graduate levels.

AUBMC is the first medical institution in the Middle East to have earned the five international accreditations of Joint Commission International (JCI), Magnet, College of American Pathologists (CAP), Joint Accreditation Committee for EBMT and ISCT Europe (JACIE), and the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education – International (ACGME-I), attesting to its superior standards in patient-centered care, nursing, pathology/laboratory services, and graduate medical education.

ADMISSIONS AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

ADMISSIONS

www.aub.edu.lb/main/admissions

AUB seeks students who have demonstrated academic achievement and promise. The university admits students regardless of race, religion, gender, or disability.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

We believe that every student who is accepted to AUB should be able to attend, regardless of their economic circumstances and without incurring the burden of long-term debt. In 2022-23, AUB awarded $121.2 million in financial assistance, from institutional funds ($78.3 million), foundation and US government grants ($16.7 million), donor-funded scholarships ($15.7 million), and staff dependent scholarships ($10.5 million).

The $78.3 million awarded from institutional funds includes $51 million that was provided to all students in 2022-23 in the form of a 40 percent tuition discount.

CAMPUS LIFE

AUB is located in the neighborhood of Ras Beirut. Its 61.2 acre (247,691 square meter) campus overlooks the Mediterranean Sea and includes academic and administrative buildings, athletic fields, a private beach, a bird sanctuary, and a repository of native and non-native trees and shrubs. The university comprises seven student residences, the AUB Medical Center, the Charles Hostler

Student Center, four libraries, computer labs, two art galleries, the Archaeological and Natural History museums, and one of Lebanon's few geological collections. The Faculty of Agricultural and Food Sciences' Advancing Research Enabling Communities (AREC) Center, a 244.8 acre (990,714 square meter) research farm and educational facility, is in the Beqaa Valley.

STUDENT LIFE

www.aub.edu.lb/SAO/housing

AUB is the first residential university in the Middle East. Whether they live on or near the campus in Ras Beirut, AUB students attend and participate in outstanding academic, athletic, civic, and club activities. AUB offers its students the opportunity to live in its residence halls and participate in a rich community life on its beautiful campus. We provide quality housing facilities and services to ensure an environment that enables our students to thrive personally and academically. The total capacity we have at the residence halls is 1,281 beds. Around 1,137 AUB students live on campus in university housing. The cost for university housing for an academic term ranges from $1,230 for a double room to $3,150 for a suite.

VISION

The Center for Civic Engagement and Community Service (CCECS) positions AUB as a civic convener and responder to societal conflicts and challenges while realizing the potential of university students as change makers in local and global contexts.

MISSION

Leveraging operational research, the campus community, and socially responsive partnerships to tackle the most pressing societal challenges facing Lebanon, and beyond. This is reflected in two cross-cutting tenets:

- Student Life
- Community Development Projects

STUDENT LIFE: VOLUNTEERING, INTERNSHIPS, WORKSHOPS, AND COMMUNITY SERVICE PROJECTS

During the 2022-23 academic year, 2,171 AUB students engaged in volunteering activities and internships completing 25,812 hours with 273 community partners. More than 600 students participated in workshops tailored to prepare them for the design and development stages of their community service projects. In addition, 339 students led 71 projects across Lebanon addressing challenges in a number of thematic areas including refugee education, gender gap in STEM fields, period poverty, wildfires, heritage preservation, eco-tourism, and child protection.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROJECTS

CCECS served more than 4,200 direct beneficiaries under its strategic community development projects that include:

- STEP: Strengthening Tertiary Educational Pipelines
- Classroom in a Toolbox: ProFuturo Digital Solutions in Informal Tented Settlements
- Al Maymouna Education: Building School Capacity for Educational Improvement

AUB's civic engagement through CCECS has earned international recognition. In 2015, AUB was designated the "most civically engaged campus" in the Middle East and North Africa by the Ma'an Alliance. In 2016, AUB-CCECS won the MacJannet Prize for Global Citizenship from Tufts University, and the MIT Enterprise Forum 'Innovate for Refugees' Award. AUB-CCECS also received the Learn by Design Honorary Award at South-by-South West (SXSW) EDU in 2018 and was shortlisted for the WISE Awards for high impact projects providing solutions to 21st century education challenges. In November 2018, AUB-CCECS received the Dr. Fritz Redlich Human Rights Award from Harvard University.

RESEARCH

www.aub.edu.lb/research

AUB fosters an intellectual community on campus where faculty are empowered by their own research and are encouraged to engage in collegial discourse and interdisciplinary innovation. This commitment supports the university's mission "to participate in the advancement of knowledge through research" and enhances the educational experience of all AUB students. Faculty and students (undergraduate, graduate, and PhD students), working individually and collaboratively with colleagues at the university and in partnerships with other institutions, are advancing our knowledge of a wide range of issues. These include the development of renewable energy resources, strategies for a sustainable environment in arid climates, peace mediation and dialogue, and treatments for human diseases. AUB faculty members partner with more than 60 universities and research centers worldwide. AUB offers its students and faculty a number of resources and services through its libraries, laboratories, computing centers, and administrative offices that are conveniently located throughout campus.

In recent years, research has become increasingly important at AUB where it is encouraged, supported, and rewarded through the advancement of faculty in professorial rank and the graduate degrees earned by master's and PhD students. AUB is currently home to many research centers and institutes that focus critical expertise and resources to address complex research problems and the rapidly changing needs of Arab societies.

AUB ALUMNI

AUB's more than 78,000 alumni live in more than 120 countries around the world. Our best estimates (AUB alumni are particularly mobile, especially these days) are that 59 percent are currently based in Lebanon; 19 percent in the MENA region; 15 percent in North America; 5 percent in Europe; and 2 percent in Sub-Saharan Africa, Asia, Australia, and South America. They work in governments, hospitals, schools, and refugee camps; they are making scientific discoveries, pioneering businesses, and transforming neighborhoods; they are raising families, caring for neighbors, and building communities. AUB graduates have served as presidents of their countries, prime ministers, foreign ministers, members of parliament, ambassadors, governors of central banks, and as presidents and deans of colleges and universities. They have been especially prominent in the field of medicine and healthcare, earning global recognitions as renowned scientists and celebrated doctors.

AUB played a singular role in the establishment of the United Nations. Five AUB alumni signed the UN Charter: Fadel Jamali (BA 1927) for Iraq; Charles Malek (BA 1927) for Lebanon; and Faris al-Khoury (BA 1897), Naim al-Antaki (former student 1924), and Nazem al-Koudsi (former student 1920) for Syria. More than 20 AUB alumni attended the San Francisco Conference in 1945 that resulted in the creation of the United Nations as delegates, assistant delegates, advisers, and observers.

Some AUB alumni have gone on to establish companies that are known worldwide such as Consolidated Contractors Group of Companies (CCC Group), co-founded by Kamel Abdul-Rahman and alumni Hasib Sabbagh (BA '41, honorary doctorate in humane letters '03) and Said Khoury (former student 1964-68, honorary doctorate in humane letters '06); Dar Al-Handasah Consultants (Shair and Partners), founded by Kamal A. Shair (former student 1945-46); IHS Towers, founded by Issam Darwish (BE Computer and Communications Engineering '92), Mohammad Darwish (BE Electrical Engineering '01), and William Saad (BE Computer and Communications Engineering '94); PEB Steel, co-founded by brothers Sami Kteily (BBA '78, EMBA '21) and Adib Kouteili (BE Mechanical Engineering '83); and Petrofac International, co-founded by Maroun Semaan (BE Mechanical Engineering '77) and Trustee Ayman Asfari.

AUB alumni have excelled throughout the world and in many fields. They are especially prominent in medicine and healthcare in the United States. Alumnus Ardem Patapoutian (1985-86), who is a neuroscience professor and Howard Hughes Medical Institute investigator at Scripps Research, was awarded the Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine (2021) with David Julius for their discoveries of receptors for temperature and touch. Other prominent medical alumni include Huda Y. Zoghbi (BS Basic Medical Sciences '76), who holds the Ralph D. Feigin Chair at Baylor College of Medicine, where she is also a professor of pediatrics, neurology, neuroscience, and molecular and human genetics; Dr. Bechara Choucair (BS Chemistry '93, MD '97), the former White House Vaccinations Coordinator; Dr. Adnan Munkarah (BS Basic Medical Sciences '82, MD '85), the Executive Vice President and Chief Clinical Officer for Henry Ford Health System; and Dr. Huda Akil (BA Psychology '66, MA Psychology '69), who received the National Medal of Science in 2023. More recent graduates have gone on to establish successful companies such as Instabeat, founded by Hind Hobeika (BE Mechanical Engineering '10); LittleBits, founded by Aya Bdeir (BE Computer and Communications Engineering '04); RoadieTuner, founded by Bassam Jalgha (BE Mechanical Engineering '08, ME Mechanical Engineering '11) and Hassane Slaibi (BE Computer and Communications Engineering '09); The Little Engineer, founded by Rana El Chemaitelly (BE Mechanical Engineering '93, ME Engineering Management '08); and Yamli, founded by Habib Haddad (BE Computer and Communications Engineering '02).

Wherever they go, and whatever they do, our alumni carry with them a belief that there can and must be a better world, where the best and brightest come together “without distinction in regard to nationality or religion” to build just, inclusive, and fair societies for all.

WORLDWIDE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF AUB

LIBRARIES

AUB has four libraries: the Nami Jafet Memorial Library (the Main Library), the Saab Memorial Medical Library, the Engineering and Architecture Library, and the Science and Agriculture Library.

These libraries are home to one of the world's largest and finest collections related to Lebanese, Arab, Islamic, and Middle Eastern studies. The libraries are also home to the largest collection of English language material in the Arab world and to sizeable collections in all the subject areas in which the university offers degree programs.

The libraries' materials include 2.1 million print and electronic volumes of books, 5,850 print periodicals, hundreds of newspapers, and more than 1 million audiovisual items – many dating back to the late 19th and early 20th centuries. The libraries subscribe to over 400 databases, provide access to 185,000 online periodicals, and are currently working on digitizing 10,000 pre-1956 print Arabic books. The Archives and Special Collections include many unique and significant items related to the sociocultural history of AUB, Lebanon, and the Middle East, portrayed in around 2,434 linear feet of archival material, 1,800 mainly Arabic manuscripts, 102,000 photos, 2,000 maps, 11,500 posters, all of which are frequently sought and used by researchers from all over the world.

The libraries include computer labs and an electronic classroom and are fully automated, providing remote access to their electronic databases, books, periodicals, and reference material. They are managed by a team of 33 professional and 39 support staff members who provide numerous high-quality services.

PARTNERING WITH AUB

www.aub.edu.lb/advancement

The Office of Advancement develops and strengthens relationships with key AUB constituencies around the world to advance the university. The office helps to position the university by engaging alumni, supporters, and influential friends; and by securing philanthropic donations, volunteer involvement, and other support. Through our Office of Business Development, we also work closely with partners in Lebanon and the region especially in the areas of higher education, public health and healthcare services, and administration, to address some of the enormous challenges that our region faces.

The Office of Advancement, which includes Advancement Services, Alumni Relations, Development, and the Neighborhood Initiative, supports the mission and priorities of AUB's Faculty of Agricultural and Food Sciences, Faculty of Arts and Sciences, Faculty of Health Sciences, Faculty of Medicine, the Maroun Semaan Faculty of Engineering and Architecture, the Rafic Hariri School of Nursing, and the Suliman S. Olayan School of Business. It works to achieve the university's fundraising goals including increasing financial aid; reinvigorating liberal arts education; promoting interdisciplinary research relevant to the region; and VITAL 2030, a vision for AUB for the next decade and beyond. In early 2017 AUB culminated its 150th anniversary celebrations by launching BOLDLY AUB: The Campaign to Lead, Innovate, and Serve. The campaign will conclude in 2024. (See page 12 to find out more about the BOLDLY AUB campaign.)

OFFICE OF BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT

Since 1975, AUB has had an office dedicated to providing consulting and technical assistance to governments, international organizations, foundations, nonprofit associations, businesses, and industry in the region. Established as the AUB Services Corporation, it was known for many years as the Office of Regional External Programs (REP). In 2020, REP was reorganized. Its Center for Continuing Education is now part of the Office of the Provost. Executive education is now managed by the respective AUB faculty. Consultancy and business development are now the responsibility of a new Office of Business Development, which is part of the Office of Advancement.

The university offers relevant expertise and extensive experience in many areas including, but not limited to, agriculture, education, engineering, entrepreneurship, health, innovation, medicine, nursing, planning, resource management, social enterprise, and sustainability. We believe strongly, as President Fadlo R. Khuri stated recently, that during these particularly challenging times, it is especially important that higher education institutions such as AUB "intensify their research collaboration, their partnerships, and their exchange of best practices and expertise."

FUNDING

AUB's investment pool was valued at $845 million on June 30, 2023. Services provided at AUB's Medical Center (39%) and Educational Services (29%) account for 68% of AUB's revenues. Contributions, Grants, and Contracts (18%), excluding contributions to the Endowment and Capital Projects, provide important funding for scholarships, research, and other university priorities. Other revenues are investment income (12%) and auxiliary enterprises (2%). Health Services represents the largest share of operating expenses (40%) followed by Educational Services (39%), Management and General (17%), Auxiliary Enterprises (2%), and Advancement (2%).

ARCHAEOLOGICAL MUSEUM

www.aub.edu.lb/museum\_archeo

The American University of Beirut Archaeological Museum is the third oldest museum in the Near East, after those in Cairo and Constantinople. General Cesnola, the American Consul in Cyprus, donated the first gift of Cypriot pottery in 1868, two years after the founding of the Syrian Protestant College (renamed the American University of Beirut in 1920). The AUB Archaeological Museum was established on this foundational collection.

In 2006, the AUB Museum underwent a complete renovation sponsored by the Society of the Friends of the Museum and the Joukowsky Foundation. The museum provides a unique overview of the archaeology in the Near East from the Early Stone Age to the Islamic Period showcasing collections from Lebanon, Syria, Cyprus, Palestine, Egypt, Iraq, and Iran.

Audio guides are available free of charge. You can take a virtual tour of the museum.

AUB IN THE COMMUNITY

THE NEIGHBORHOOD INITIATIVE

For 150 years, the histories of AUB and Ras Beirut have been intertwined, shaping each other's identity and place within the city. The Neighborhood Initiative is AUB's way of giving back to the neighborhood by mobilizing the university's resources for the public good, beginning just outside the campus walls.

The Neighborhood Initiative mobilizes the full power of AUB (intellectual, human, and institutional) for the public good in Ras Beirut by promoting the neighborhood's livability, vitality, and diversity through innovative outreach activities and multidisciplinary research. The mission of the Neighborhood Initiative echoes the mission of the university, highlighting the importance of service and civic responsibility in Lebanon and the region. The university's mission to provide excellent education and advance knowledge through research is enhanced and made more relevant by engagement with local issues and offering solutions to real problems.

With funding from IREX, the initiative has produced "Allo, Beirut?," the first immersive interactive multimedia exhibition in Beit Beirut, the museum of memory of the city. Led by Lebanese activists, artists, and journalists, this multidisciplinary project deals with social changes, the arts, journalism, social justice, and education. Based on investigative documentation combined with sensory experiences, the project uses art and journalism to cultivate a sense of belonging, question the past, and envision a better future for Lebanon. The exhibition that opened in September 2022 and closed in July 2023 was the most visited exhibition in Beirut in recent years with an average of 150 visitors per day, totaling more than 55,000 visitors.

The work of the Neighborhood Initiative was featured in a chapter co-authored by Cynthia Myntti and Mona El Hallak, former and current directors of the initiative, entitled "Heritage from a neighborhood perspective: reflections from the American University of Beirut" in "Co-curating the City – Universities and Urban Heritage Past and Future," published by UCL Press.

The initiative celebrates the festive season with Al Jar Lil Jar program of performances at Al Madina Theatre to re-enliven Ras Beirut, bringing back music and joy to our community. The Christmas parade starts from the AUB Main Gate to Hamra Street with the Lebanese Scouts Association Band, students from public and private schools, local NGOs, neighborhood residents and business owners, and features musical street performances by young Lebanese, Palestinians, and Syrians as well as migrant domestic workers. The program includes concerts by both established artists and young talents in addition to the AUB Zaki Nassif Ensemble for Arabic Music and the Fayha National Choir.

The initiative supports tactical urban interventions that beautify the neighborhood and turn the streets and stairs around campus into vibrant meeting spaces, for a more livable and sustainable city. These interventions address social, urban, and environmental issues, activate public spaces, and engage the community to reclaim their neighborhood, bringing together community leaders, designers, artists, NGOs, and public and private institutions. Such projects include:

- Production of a ping pong table designed by District D, made from concrete and recycled glass and plastic, placed in the OSB public plaza on the Corniche of Ain El Mreisseh.
- Implementation of a modular concrete parklet system designed by Ramzi Aliah to organize the area on Bliss Street facing the Main Gate, creating a green seating area and delineating the pedestrian passage. Along the sidewalk, artist Ghaleb Hawila created a 20 meter long mural featuring AUB's motto, "That they may have life and have it more abundantly," in Arabic.
- Organizing public concerts to celebrate the lighting of Bliss Street and the Ain Mreisseh Corniche with power from AUB's generator after changing all the lamps of the municipal light poles to LED lamps as part of the "Light up our community" initiative in collaboration with Rebirth Beirut and Medco.

- Collaboration with local NGOs Wave Bike and The Chain Effect to launch an E-bicycle station on Makhoul Street promoting green transport solutions and encouraging a car-free lifestyle in the neighborhood, in addition to creating bicycle parking stations in the neighborhood.
- Collaboration with the local NGO Ahla Fawda to launch the first urban Eco Hub in Beirut dedicated to restoring ecosystems and promoting sustainability through creativity and community engagement. Public workshops, events, and activities are held to spread awareness about upcycling, recycling, and the circular economy. A partnership with Refuse promotes sorting at the source offering rewards for recyclables dropped at their collection point on site. With funding from Procol Lebanon, the initiative implemented Ecoplay, an eco-inspired community space and children's playground designed by Catalytic Action solely from upcycled locally discarded material such as car tires, plastic crates, wooden pallets, metal barrels, and plastic bottle caps.

The AUB Neighborhood Initiative's ongoing activities include:

- Facilitating research for students and faculty across the university to solve problems in Ras Beirut, providing access to our database and offering advice and insights to guide students in their work.
- Community service activities with AUB students as well as students from public and private schools in the neighborhood.
- Co-curating cultural events including "Beirut Design Week" and "La Semaine du Son" in Ras Beirut, and the "Giving Voice to Music Initiative" in partnership with the Zovighian Partnership.
- Al Jar Lil Jar campaign to support vulnerable Ras Beirut families, especially

- the elderly, with donations from the AUB community, alumni, and friends, in addition to collaborating with AUBMC to offer free medical consultation and with donors and NGOs for free medications.
- Documenting the oral history of the fishermen of Ain el Mreisseh to preserve the memory of the area.
  - Ras Beirut Btifroz recycling campaign to encourage reducing, reusing, and recycling in the neighborhood with a growing network of residential buildings and coffeeshops.
  - Recycling program for cigarette filters collected around campus in collaboration with the AUB Tobacco-Free Initiative and Recycle Lebanon, producing standup paddle boards for beach cleanups.

THE UNIVERSITY FOR SENIORS

The University for Seniors (UfS) Program, which is housed at the Faculty of Health Sciences, is a life transforming life-long learning initiative at AUB, the first of its kind in Lebanon and the Middle East. UfS aspires to be a flagship for promoting healthy aging, advocating for the rights of older persons (over the age of 50), and portraying a positive image of aging. The mission of UfS is to be a late-life learning program that provides older adults with educational and cultural opportunities to be intellectually energized, physically active, and socially engaged in their communities. At UfS, we believe in creating a new and positive face of aging where older adults are empowered to lead an active life and are agents of change in their communities and beyond. Our activities are designed to encourage healthy aging and well-being through a holistic approach attentive to physical and mental health and social well-being. We organize a wide variety of lectures, mini-courses and educational trips across Lebanon and abroad in addition to in-person and virtual social and cultural events, physical activity sessions, and mental health support.

ALMA MATER

Far, far above the waters
Of the deep blue sea,
Lies the campus of the College,
Where we love to be.
Far away behold Kanisah!
Far beyond, Sannin!
Rising hoary to the heavens,
Clad in glorious sheen.

Chorus

From Iraq or from Arabia
From the banks so green
Of the great Egyptian river
Or from Palestine;
From the waters of Abana
Lebanon serene,
We salute thee, Alma Mater!
Oriental Queen.

Chorus

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater!
We would ever be Worthy children. Make us faithful,
Faithful e'er to thee!
Whereso'er the land that calls us,
E'en across the sea,
We'll salute thee, Alma Mater,
Hail! O Hail! to thee.

Chorus

Chorus

Look before us!
Shout the chorus!
See the banner wave.
AUB in thee we glory;
Make us true and brave.
